Ashley Richardson
 Senior Director, Strategy & Communications
 Charleston County Economic Development

Ashley Richardson has been with the Charleston County Economic Development Department since 2016. Starting as the Director of Marketing, Ashley is now the Senior Director, Strategy & Communications. After earning her Bachelor of Science in marketing at The University of Alabama, Ashley moved to Charleston and graduated with a Master's in Business Administration from The Citadel in 2005. She graduated from Leadership Charleston, the Economic Development Institute at the University of Oklahoma and earned a Diversity Leaders Certification. She was honored as the Top Forty Under 40 by Charleston Regional Business Journal in 2015 and North America's Top 50 Economic Developers by Consultant Connect in 2023.

In her role, she assists in the daily operations of the department. She works to integrate the department's strategic direction with the three main missions of the department: recruitment of new industry, the care and feeding of existing industry, and fostering a pro-business climate. Ashley is the chief architect of the marketing and communications program and successfully launched Charleston County Economic Development's rebrand in 2021. Strategically positioning Charleston County's competitive advantage, Ashley has assisted 90 projects in their expansion announcements.

Ashley lives in Mount Pleasant with her husband and two daughters.
