Cape Romain National Wildlife Refuge

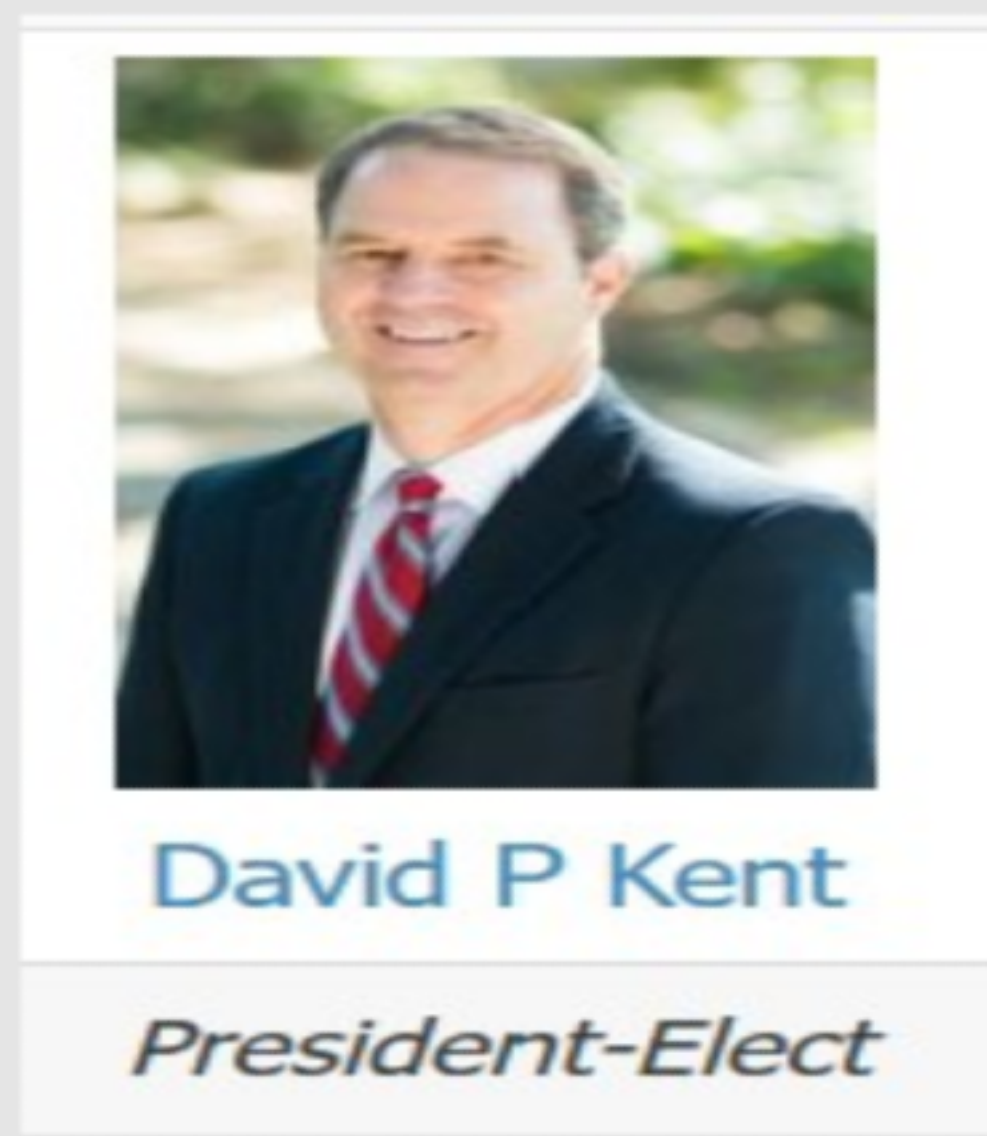

Tricia Midgett
Cape Romain National Wildlife Refuge, Refuge Ranger

Tricia began her career at Cape Romain NWR as Refuge Ranger in 2002, working at the Sewee Visitor and Environmental Education Center in interpretive and educational programming and public outreach. In 2010 her duties expanded to include refuge Volunteer Coordinator and, in 2012, she became the Sewee Center Director and Visitor Services Manager for the refuge. Over the years, her work at the refuge evolved to include many areas, such as landscaping at the Center, trail and grounds maintenance on the refuge, bird surveys, assisting with the sea turtle nesting project and office administrative tasks.

Before coming to Cape Romain Refuge, Tricia worked for several years in interpretation for the National Park Service on the Blue Ridge Parkway, NC and, spent two winters as temporary Ranger at Laguna Atascosa National Wildlife Refuge.

Tricia is a native of Cape Hatteras, North Carolina. She attended Appalachian State University, Boone NC, where she received her B.S. in Outdoor Recreation Management and M.S in Sociology. She moved to the Lowcountry when offered the Ranger position at Cape Romain NWR. She enjoys hiking, birding, and kayaking and loves being at the beach and in the mountains.
