JusticeWorks BehavioralCare (JWBC) offers a full range of behavioral health services to children and families working with South Carolina's Departments of Social Services, Juvenile Justice, Education and Mental Health as well as self-referrals.

JWBC is a Qualified Medicaid Provider which has demonstrated that its proactive approach to services can ameliorate severe problems for multi-challenged youth and their families. Their focus is to keep families intact, build on their strengths, and support the safety, permanence and well-being of all children. Most their services are delivered in the family's home and community. They accept private insurance from Blue Cross Blue Shield, TriCare, Cigna and most other carriers.
